'Dead' Over 3 Hours, Merryman Child Is Revived By Heart Massage

Heart massage restored life to an 18-month old boy at a hospital in Mt. Clemens Michigan last Friday night, about 1 1/2 hours after the child had apparently drowned in a water filled ditch.

The child was Timothy Merryman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Merryman of Mt. Clemens. The father, a former resident of Fulton was graduated from Fulton High school in 1956, is the son of David M. Merryman of Fulton Route 4.

The child remained in a "very critical" condition at St. Joseph's hospital in Mt. Clemens this week with attending physician Dr. Peter Kane stating it "very surprising" that he was alive at all. Dr. Kane, a staff physician at the hospital, performed the leading role in the dramatic rescue; Macomb County Sheriff's deputies and an 11-year-old boy also had important parts.

Kane massaged the heart of the apparently lifeless boy for an hour before his heartbeat and breathing resumed. (The child's grandfather told The News Wednesday that chances of survival were normally 1 in 100 under such conditions).

The boy wandered unobserved from his home about two miles north of Mt. Clemens about 9 p. m. last Friday night. He fell into the ditch across the road from the house.

Merryman's stepson, Ronald Nyboer, discovered the youngster missing and telephone police. Sheriff's officers arrived within minutes and found Timothy face down in 2 1/2 feet of water.

A deputy applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while other officers drove to the hospital. "There was no sign of life—no heartbeat, no respiration, no pulse," said Dr. Kane. "It looked hopeless, but we felt we should try anyway."

Kane massaged the child's heart by rhythmically pressing on his chest while hospital personnel administered oxygen. "It was very surprising that we were able to restore breathing and heart action after so long a time," Kane said.

The Nyboer boy was caring for the four Merryman children while Mrs. Merryman had gone shopping. The father, an airman at Selfridge Air Force Base, was on duty. The other children are David, 10, Jerry, 6, and Sandra, 7.

Note Book

Last week when I wrote about my "get lost" escapade from Mississippi a very good friend of mine, Mrs. Ernest Willey, remarked with tongue-in-cheek, "it was a good reading!" I made up my mind that I wasn't going to write any more of my harrowing experiences when they sound so unbelievable. But here comes another fantastic story. It couldn't happen to anybody but me. Every fact can be substantiated by the person about whom this article is being written.

Annabelle Edwards, praise the Lord, has done, what we consider a great favor, by accepting a position as office assistant, reporter, circulation manager, bookkeeper and generalissimo at the News office. She is also secretary and stenographer for West Kentucky Productions, the drama group that will present "Stars in My Crown," this summer at Kenlake Hotel. Now if Annabelle did just ONE of these jobs she'd have her hands full, but she does them both and of course does them superbly.

But that's not the story. The story is that if there is another person in Fulton who works at more jobs than I do, it's that gal in the front office. Between the two of us, the one-time peaceful and placid News office has become a clearing house of confusion. Paul said that at one time when a person walked into the News office they either wanted to: subscribe to the paper, put an ad in the paper, or do something that has now become almost a rarity, like clueing us in on some project that doesn't take work.

I didn't quite realize what was going on until late Monday afternoon when a nice young man came into the office and said: "I want to send a wire to get my leave extended because my baby is sick." There was no one in the office but me, so I thought he had the wrong destination and was looking for Western Union. When I told him where that office was he proceeded to tell me that he wanted the Red Cross to get that leave for him. That's when I snapped into a mental flashback and remembered how many times Annabelle has been on the phone checking bus schedules, begging groceries, looking for lodgings, and giving aid and comfort to unwed mothers.

ANNABELLE IS THE SECRETARY TO THE LOCAL CHAPTER OF THE RED CROSS. There's no need to go into detail. Her interviews run the gamut from finding lost wives en route from Germany, to buying a bowl of soup for a hobo.

Now that I look back on things I recall Annabelle talking with people about dozens of things unrelated to newspapering and I decided to get a run down on what she does when she's "resting." Annabelle Edwards, as I said before is secretary of the local Red Cross. She is secretary of the Citizen's Advisory Committee and secretary of the Twin City Development Association. She is service chairman of the Christian Women's Fellowship Society of the First Christian Church and president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

She is past president of the local Business and Professional Women's Club. There's no telling the number of committees she works on in that organization. She worked for 38 years with the Illinois Central Railroad and knows every railroad who ever walks into the News office, and many of them who don't. Last year she was re-elected to the unique Informa-

Breathitt Here Next Week; Says Chandler Needs $135 Million Dollars In New Taxes

Gubernatorial candidate Edward T. "Ned" Breathitt is expected to bring his campaign to far western Kentucky next week, Sheriff Joe Campbell, Breathitt's Fulton County campaign chairman announced today. Mr. Breathitt is scheduled at Bardwell next Tuesday night and is expected to spend the night in Fulton. He will spend next Wednesday morning campaigning in Hickman County and that afternoon will visit in Fulton County. More complete details of the candidate's visit will be announced later, Mr. Campbell told the News Wednesday.

At the same time the county chairman announced that Mr. Breathitt would appear on WPSD-TV Friday night at 8:30 p. m. in an eight-station state-wide network.

Severe flood conditions caused Edward T. (Ned) Breathitt to cut short his camping swing through Eastern Kentucky this week. However, Breathitt did make a report from the flooded area over the radio station at Prestonsburg just before high water forced the station off the air.

Earlier, speaking at the Adair County Courthouse in Columbia, Breathitt charged that his opponent, A. B. Chandler, has committed himself publicly and privately to more than $100 million in expenditures over and above the present state budget.

"Add to this the $35 million tax reduction which he has proposed and we find that my opponent is pledged to impose upon the tax payers of Kentucky $135 million more in taxes than we are obtaining from present revenue sources," Breathitt said.

Breathitt asked where his opponent proposed to obtain an additional $135 million. "To do so he will have to double the income tax," Breathitt said, "increase the tax on farms and homes, add to the taxes on tobacco and other farm products and broaden the sales tax to cover services such as auto repairs, laundry, plumbers, baby sitters, electricians, and dentists and carpenters."

In a speech at Greenup, Breathitt called for "decent minimum wages" in Kentucky and attacked the concept of sweatshops. He said that his administration would be dedicated to the teaching of scripture that "the laborer is worthy of his hire."

Challenging his opponent A. B. Chandler to tell the people of Kentucky what understanding he has made with his principal financial backer or anyone else regarding a reduction of minimum wage orders now in effect, Breathitt stated, "I challenge him to tell

March 29 Is Deadline For Vote Register

Edward T. (Ned) Breathitt, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, today called on all eligible but unregistered voters to register before the March 29 deadline.

"This is the last chance for voters to register to vote in their party's primary," Breathitt said. "If your name isn't on the books by the deadline, your next chance to vote will be the November general election."

Breathitt said that women who have changed their names by marriage, persons who have not registered previously and persons who have moved without re-registering are among those who must register to vote in the May 28 primary.

"I would like to remind young people especially to register," he said. "They should understand that they will be eligible to vote in May if they will be 18 years old by November 5, general election day. This means that some 17-year-olds can vote in the primary."

In most counties registration is in the office of the county clerk.

Murray Coach Seeks To Establish More Football Teams In Purchase Area Schools

The final scores for the 1962-1963 basketball season has been recorded as sports history. The emphasis turns now to spring practice for football, baseball, track and other High School sports.

While many schools in the Jackson Purchase area schools have football teams, Jim Holt, assistant football coach at Murray State College points out that more schools could have football teams if a concentrated effort were made by schools administrators and fans in the areas involved.

In a letter addressed to board members, administrators, teachers and interested individuals of Western Kentucky, Mr. Holt outlines the feasibility of starting football at several non-football-playing Purchase schools. Since football is the number one sport of many area residents the News is herewith printing Mr. Holt's letter with the view that the information contained in it might enlarge the football schedule this year.

The letter:

An open letter to board members, administrators, teachers and interested individuals of Western Kentucky.

Last fall I started a concentrated effort to ascertain the feasibility of starting football at several Purchase schools. Since then I have received enough verbal and written support from interested people to justify the continuation of this effort. My efforts will be in vain unless the people of each school and community take up the challenge.

Too much has been said and written about both the advantages and disadvantages of playing high school football. I will not take your time to argue this point. Interscholastic athletics including competitive football, is another part of the curriculum made available by the school for individuals to express themselves. A good school system strives to meet the physical, mental, and social needs of all its students. The physical needs can be met through physical education classes for all students, intramurals for those who desire it, and interscholastic varsity athletics for the gifted. I believe that every secondary school in this area should make a determined effort to include football, basketball, baseball, track, golf, tennis, and cross country in their varsity athletic program. This is an idealistic proposal and, of course, cannot be fulfilled at all Purchase schools in the immediate future, but it could be a realistic goal.

I would like to make to you a very realistic proposal. There are several high schools within a fifty mile radius of Murray State College with an enrollment of 223 to

Youth Takes Over In Directing Talent Show

Tuesday night a group of young people from South Fulton and Fulton city schools met together for the purpose of completing the committees who will have charge of the big display of talent to be presented on Friday night, March 29, at the South Fulton gym. This show is being sponsored by the Twin City Youth, Incorporated.

Jerry Mac Weaks, South Fulton senior, and Barry Adams, Fulton High senior, will combine their talents and efforts in producing and directing the big show.

One of Fulton's budding young artists, Ann Williams, a junior at Fulton High, is busy with paint brushes and drawing pencils, getting the stage setting in order, carrying out the idea of the children and young people of the community at large.

Charles Allen, junior at South Fulton High, has assumed the re-

"Kentuckians Preferred" Is Call For Cast For "Stars In My Crown"

"Kentuckians Preferred," is the way Burnett Hobgood sums up the first call for actors, dancers, singers and other talent wishing to participate in the outdoor drama "Stars In My Crown", to be presented at the amphitheater at Kenlake Hotel this summer. Mr. Hobgood and his wife Jane will arrive in West Kentucky about April 3rd and will conduct auditions for parts in Dr. Kermit Hunter's historical drama of West Kentucky on April 5th in Murray, from two until five o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Hobgood will audition the dancers and Jack Boyd will audition the singers. Mr. Boyd, Director of Music at Tullahoma High School, has been employed as musical director for the show. Max Hurt, President of the West Kentucky Productions Association, announced today.

Mr. Hobgood, a native born Kentuckian, who will direct the first outdoor drama ever presented in this area, summed up his search for talent for "Stars In My Crown" in this manner: "We want the best possible cast for this show. The play celebrates the people of Western Kentucky—their courage in meeting problems, their resourcefulness in licking problems, and their heroism in surmounting problems. We want people in our cast who will be able to convey that idea to the audience."

When asked about the qualifications needed by those persons seeking roles in the productions, Mr. Hobgood said, "There are no qualifications really, except a burning interest and desire. It is true that experience counts heavily, but essentially we are looking for talent, not a long string of credits." Mr. Hobgood said that most of the cast will be 17 years old and older. "I am particularly interested in a few older people who would be interested in working as 'citizens and townspeople' in crowd scenes. Also, we need a half-dozen or more children to play young Alben Barkley, Irvin S. Cobb and other prominent characters," he added.

Mr. Hobgood asked that it be made clear that everyone connected with the cast will be paid. Applications to audition for the drama should be addressed to West Kentucky Productions Association, Box 679, Murray, Kentucky. Personal contact with any members of the organization will in no way help those interested in the play to get the parts. All talent must be interviewed by the three directors who will be on hand to audition dancers, actors and singers.

The Director of "Stars In My

Crown" is a Kentuckian bred and raised, who has the personal familiarity with the geography of this and other countries which is credits." Mr. Hobgood said that most of the cast will be 17 years old and older. Young Attorney To Be Speaker At Youth Rally

CARROLL HUBBARD

Fulton County's Baptist Youth Rally will have the pleasure of hearing Carroll Hubbard speak to them on Saturday night at 7:30 P. M. The rally will be held at the Liberty Baptist Church, with the pastor, Rev. Don Hancock, in charge of the arrangements.

Norman White, Music Director of the First Baptist Church in Fulton, will conduct the musical portion of the rally.

Young Hubbard has been much in demand in this area as a speaker before church and youth groups. He is a forceful and dynamic speaker. He is a member of the law firm of Martin, Neely and Reed at Mayfield.

Wasteful Spending By Members Of Congress Shows Us Of Need For More Men Like Robert A. Everett

It may not happen in your lifetime or ours, but the day will come perhaps, when the lowly taxpayer will have a greater voice in the way his tax dollar is spent. That day will come sooner than we think if such elected officials as Rep. Robert A. "Fats" Everett of Union City gets the kind of cooperation he needs from his fellow members of Congress to expose individuals like Adam Clayton Powell, the free-wheeling, free spending Congressman from New York's heavily populated Harlem district.

Members of Congress are not always eager to bring to light the indiscriminate spending of the taxpayers' money by their colleagues. So many of them are guilty of the same indiscretions that it hardly behooves any of them to talk about the others. But Congressman Everett undoubtedly thinks more of his obligation to his constituents than he does his fellow Congressman when he expresses deep concern over the manner in which Powell is conducting his office. The debonair Powell has one of the greatest absentee voting records of any member of Congress. He is by far one of the greatest travellers in the United States Congress. His latest safari to Europe, in the company of two lady companions, to investigate some innocuous installation is enough to revolt even the most apathetic Federal taxpayer.

Powell is a high ranking member of the House Education Committee. It is his obligation and his duty to attend to first things first where education is concerned, we would think. Congressman Powell asked for $250,000.00 for a sort of Peace Corps task force in Harlem, yet right under his very nose, in the Nation's Capital six members of the House Education Committee found school conditions they described as "a blight," "a disgrace," "shocking" and "terrible."

The committee was escorted through Pierce elementary and Hine Junior High Schools and here's what they found:

Pierce, built 69 years ago, snug-gles 400 youngsters into its eight rooms designed for 280. "Horrible Hine," as intimates know it, is 76 years old. Its 800-capacity plant has 1,174 pupils.

"My God!" blurted Representative John H. Dent, (D., Pa.) faced with a small, damp basement room in which wrapping paper served for window shades.

"We wanted to use our basement room for our slowest students, but it was too damp and too poorly lighted," explained Pierce principal Frederick A. Smith. "So we use it to show educational films."

Further along the Pierce tour the group came upon classrooms crowded with more than 40 children, a ragged hole in a top-floor ceiling, four double-shift classes and a tiny play area in which, Dent said, "children would have to stand on each other's shoulders to fit."

They inspected outdated and tattered textbooks and were shown boys' and girls' basement lavatories with one wash basin each.

"Some congressmen still have two wash basins in their offices," remarked Representative Edith Green, (D., Ore.). "These conditions are a disgrace in a society which calls itself affluent."

In the Hine school, the group noticed mops and buckets on a staircase and were told by principal Howard F. Bolden, "This is the only place we have on this floor for janitors' supplies."

They stepped over debris left over from a 1959 fire which damaged the third floor. They walked under hanging wires—part of the bell system on the dimly lighted first floor.

In the library—used during class hours as a classroom—the legislators came across hundreds of books in old cardboard boxes. These were the library's "stacks." And the library could be used as a library only before and after school.

Olive Frank Laird, husband of Mrs. Virginia Laird of Dukedom, entered the navy as an apprentice seaman and is undergoing recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training School at Great Lakes, Ill.

100 Years Ago This Week

An historical review of the Civil War day by day in Kentucky, as reviewed by the Kentucky Civil War Commission. By JOE JORDAN

At the end of last week's installment of this serial story, some 750 Confederate cavalrymen of Brig. Gen. John Hunt Morgan's division, after early successes in raiding the Bluegrass Region, had been driven deep into the mountains of Eastern Kentucky. We left them at their camp on the Middle Fork of Licking River, near Salyersville, apparently in imminent danger of being wiped out. They were menaced from three different quarters by separate Union Army forces, of which even the smallest outnumbered them.

In the two weeks preceding their retreat into the hills the Rebel raiders had captured Mount Sterling twice—and twice had been driven out of the town by superior enemy forces. Col. Roy S. Cluke, commander of the expedition, reasoned that the Federals, now intent on blocking his escape south of Confederate territory, would scarcely expect him to make another appearance at Mount Sterling, of all places. Accordingly, with the audacity typical of Morgan's men, he headed back toward the Montgomery County seat. An almost incredible march of 60 miles in 24 hours, over mountain trails and across swollen streams, brought the troopers on the night of March 20 to McIntyre's Ferry on the Licking, 30 miles from Mount Sterling.

The next day, a battalion under Major Theophilus Steele was sent by way of Owingsville to take a position on the far side of Mount Sterling, on the road to Winchester. Cluke and the rest of the command rode straight on to the target city. The Tenth Kentucky (Union) Cavalry, defending the and other buildings. Four hours of desperate street and house fighting ensued, the Rebels with axes, sledge hammers and torches slowly forcing their way to the heart of town. The U. S. garrison then surrendered; victors and prisoners together put out the fires.

Cluke took 428 prisoners, 220 wagons loaded with supplies, 500 mules and nearly 1,000 stands of arms. He immediately marched away and, skirmishing briefly with Union cavalry five miles east of the town, rode unpursued to Owingsville.

During the same week, "Union Democrats" held a party convention at Louisville and nominated a ticket for state offices. They were not the same Democrats whose attempt to conduct a convention at Frankfort in February had been broken up by a Union Army colonel backed up by troops. The latter, called "Peace Democrats," included those who had been openly for the South before the war and during Kentucky's neutrality, plus others exasperated by Federal military rule and by the Emancipation Proclamation.

The "Union Democrats" included some who would have been Republicans except that the Lincoln Administration was so unpopular in the state that it would have been fatal to their chances to use that name. They nominated for governor Joshua F. Bell (who later would decline to run), and for lieutenant governor Col. Richard T. Jacob, commander of a Kentucky regiment in the Union Army.

HIGHWAY 51

The multitudes move by my door
On Highway 51,
And as they pass, I know that some
Are bent on having fun,
But others bear a troubled face
And in their hearts a prayer,
For in their lives there must have come
A weight of worldly care.
Sometimes, it's death that places them
On Highway 51;
Sometimes, they're headed to a place
Where surgeon's work is done;
Sometimes, it's just to work they go,
But one can never tell
If it is work or health or play,
Or death's dark tolling bell.
I've travelled Highway 51
In sunshine and in rain;
I've travelled it at midnight, dark,
Midst brutal, searing pain;
I've travelled it when death's cold clutch
Had gripped a loved one, dear,
When both our babes were born to us—
In hope and mingled fear.
Sometimes, it is an ugly band
Of concrete and of steel,
But, sometimes, it's a golden trail
That almost seems to feel,
But knowing that it sometimes bears
A load of worldly care,
I watch the people passing by,
And pray a silent prayer.

How much better off most of us would be if we practiced the fine art of doing a little more than is expected of us. There is no surer rule for business success, and no truer compass for the seas of friendship. It is the key that makes almost any door spring open.

You can no more measure a home by inches, or weigh it by ounces, than you can set up the boundaries of a summer breeze, or calculate the fragrance of a rose. Home is the love which is in it.

The hardest thing for a husband to do when he brings home the bacon is to salt a little of it away.

Telephone Talk

Your Telephone Manager

ONE OF THE GREAT FREEDOMS ON WHICH OUR COUNTRY IS BUILT is freedom of education. But incredible as it seems, particularly to people of other countries where free education is not so readily available, many of our young people are not taking full advantage of this great freedom. Every year thousands of teenagers leave school before they graduate. They discover too late that they will experience two to three times more unemployment than the graduate, earn about $50,000 less during working life than the graduate, end up doing only routine work while the choice jobs go to the graduates. Spread the word among your teenage friends . . . stay in school, education comes first.

HERE'S NEWS FOR HI-FI ENTHUSIASTS . . . A new earphone used in acoustical experiments at Bell Telephone Laboratories may some day be available for use with high fidelity sets. Hooked up to a hi-fi set, with volume turned low, the earphones bring the full sound effect to the wearer . . . private hi-fi!

TIME BY TELSTAR . . . By now, many of us have seen television transmitted by Telstar, the Bell System's experimental active communications satellite. But there's another, not so well-known job which has also been done by Telstar . . . synchronization of master time clocks in England and the United States. Time signals were sent simultaneously via Telstar between Andover, Maine and Goochville Downs, England. Master clocks in our country and in England were then synchronized from the time signals. Clock-watching via Telstar!

BUSY FAMILIES NEED extension telephones; in the bedroom for quiet, relaxed conversation with friends and security at night . . . in the den for dad's business talk . . . in the kitchen for conversation while cooking . . . in that teen-ager's room for boy/girl talk. Extension phones save time and steps. Pretty to look at and inexpensive, too. Just call our Business Office for details.

Do Good And Avoid Evil

Man may ignore, disregard and even deny that he is imbued with a sense of right and wrong. But this inclination to 'do good and avoid evil'—often referred to as the Natural Law—has been so ingrained into his nature by the Creator that it can never be completely eliminated.

No matter how grim and pessimistic things may seem from a human point of view, there is solid reason for hope in the fact that this divine impulse always lingers in even the worst of men.

As little as he may intend it, the actions of the wrongdoer himself testify to a nobler instinct within him that cannot be stifled, however much it may be disregarded and blunted. For example:

—The liar must know the truth before he can tell falsehoods.

—The worst thief strives to have trustworthy men around him.

—Those who plunder, rape and murder rarely commit their crimes in open daylight.

—The most immoral of men go to great lengths to protect the virtue of their wives and daughters.

—The most perverted and disreputable of people usually try to masquerade as the very opposite.

—Individuals who deny God never succeed in entirely convincing

Mrs. Maude Willingham

Mrs. Maude Willingham died on March 15 in the Fulton Hospital, where she had been a patient for three weeks. She was the widow of W. M. Willingham.

Funeral services were held March 17 at Whitel Funeral Home Chapel, with Dr. H. H. Boston, retired Baptist minister of Union City, officiating. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery. Pallbearers were James Fuller, Oscar Johnson, Flynn Powell, Raymond Williams, Marvin Sanders and Richard Willey.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Floyd Wallace of Evansville, Ind., and Mrs. R. L. Johnson of Fulton; two grandsons, whom she reared, Raymond Williams of Fulton and R. B. Willingham of South Carrollton, Ky.; a niece and four grandchildren.

Cloys Walker

Funeral services for James Cloys Walker, 63, Hickman County farmer, were held March 16 at Salem Methodist Church with Rev. John Weir and Rev. Robert Crump officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery with Hopkins & Brown in charge. Mr. Walker died in the Fulton Hospital March 14, after a short illness.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Marjorie Walker; two daughters, Mrs. Janice Whitlock of Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Ennis Burkett of Clinton; a son, Larry Walker of Long Beach, Calif.; two brothers and one grandchild.

Mrs. Billy Netherland

Mrs. Shirley Netherland, 23, died in Jackson-Madison County General Hospital in Jackson, Tenn., February 14, after having been injured in an automobile accident. Funeral services were held in the Second Baptist Church in Union City on February 16, with interment in Obion County Memorial Gardens. White-Ransom Funeral Home was in charge.

Mrs. Netherland was the wife of Billy Jack Netherland, former Fulton resident.

What would happen to a distinguished guest who took his "key to the city" literally?

Grooms Child Improving After Auto Injuries

The condition of Tammy Grooms is very satisfactory, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Grooms, reported today. Tammy, age 5, was painfully injured when she was struck by a pickup truck on Fourth Street in Fulton on March 14. She was treated at Jones Hospital for a broken right arm, bruised knee and head, then transferred to Western Baptist Hospital in Paducah.

The accident occurred when the child darted out from behind a car into the path of a pickup truck driven by Walter Bequette of South Fulton. Two witnesses said "the accident was unavoidable, as the child ran out in front of the moving truck." No charges were placed against the driver of the truck.

Income Tax Collector Warns Of Late Filing

District Director G. C. Hooks said today that between now and the April 15th deadline the Louisville office expects to receive more than 460,000 Federal income tax returns. Mr. Hooks said that during the first two and one-half months of the three and one-half months filing period less than 400,000 Kentucky taxpayers have filed. This means, he said, that over half of the estimated 860,000 returns to be received have not been filed as yet.

Mr. Hooks urges those taxpayers who have not filed to begin now to prepare their returns in order to avoid the last minute rush!

Mr. Hooks further said that in processing the returns received it has been found that taxpayers are still making some of the same old errors and are also making some new ones. Among the old ones are:

1. Failure of taxpayer to sign return.
 2. Exemptions are not being listed on Page 2 of both form 1040 and 1040-A.
 3. Taxpayers are not attaching required schedules.
- The new items are primarily:
1. Married people are not filling in their returns correctly in that on Page 1 of 1040 and 1040-A the married people are checking the wrong block.

Mr. Hooks said that the married people are checking the block at the end of the statement that applies to them rather than the block at the beginning.

2. Some taxpayers are applying the Investment Credit against their self-employment tax. The Investment Credit is applicable only as a credit to the income tax liability.

In order to avoid these errors Mr. Hooks suggests that taxpayers double check their entire return before sending it in.

U. S. 'Fishing' For Aquariums

New York — The country is "going fishing"—with a shopping bag.

Pet industry sources report that in 1962 Americans bought a record number of live fish for home aquariums. Because of the hundreds of fish suppliers, it is impossible to estimate the millions sold. However, the F. W. Woolworth Company, largest of the pet-fish retailers, reports its stores alone sold more than 6,500,000 fish last year.

South Fulton Seeks Beauty For 1963 Title

The South Fulton Booster Club is planning its second annual Beauty Revue to select Miss South Fulton for 1963. The queen will be selected from thirty beautiful girls on April 12, beginning at 8:00 P. M. at the South Fulton gym.

Each girl will appear before the judges and take her place on the stage. When all girls are on the stage, they will be in butterfly wing formation. This is something everyone will want to see. With thirty lovely girls, wearing their beautiful and very colorful dresses, you will have to see the beauty to believe it.

There will be two rehearsals and all girls should be present. First rehearsal 3:15 p. m., April 9, second at 7:00 p. m., April 11. Any girls who do not have transportation on these dates should call Bill Jetton, chairman of the revue. The very beautiful and talented Miss Linda Thorpe, Miss South Fulton of 1962, will crown the 1963 queen.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

A new art gallery at Paducah was cited today by Paul Hadley, director of the Kentucky Department of Commerce's Division of Arts and Crafts, as the nucleus of a cultural hub "destined to aid the economic growth of the area." Both Hadley and Commerce Commissioner James H. Nutter, Jr., stressed that the cultural life of a community is often considered by industrialists in selecting new locations for manufacturing facilities.

The art gallery in downtown Paducah was recently opened in a section of the Old Market House—a building formerly devoted to marketing of produce—by the Paducah Art Guild, headed by Bob Evans, a local artist. Hadley pointed out that the Paducah gallery "may be unique in that it is not an endowed institution but owes its existence to cooperation by Paducahans in all walks of life."

The Market House is owned by the City of Paducah, which leased it to the Civic Beautification Board. The board, in turn leased the north wing to the Paducah Art Guild for use as an art gallery. A craft center, little theater and a museum are among projects contemplated for development in other sections.

"The Guild is indebted to local art lovers, business concerns, labor unions, and just plain citizens for time, labor and materials in bringing the gallery project to fruition," Hadley said.

Many Paducah business leaders and civic-minded patrons provided the financial boost needed to back the project. Mayor Robert Cherry, City Manager Raleigh Brockman and the City Commissioners gave their cooperation, as did the Civic Beautification Board. Members of the Carpenters Local Union No. 559 donated their time in erecting new interior exhibition walls. Members of the local chapter of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers also donated their time in installing electric heaters and lights.

The Paducah Art Guild, established in 1957, is a charter member of the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen. Currently showing at its new gallery are works from the collection of the Evansville Museum of Arts and Sciences.

Applications for the Kappa Pi art scholarship at Murray State College are now being accepted.

The scholarship, a $250 grant, will be awarded by the MSC chapter of Kappa Pi to a high school senior who wishes to study art here. Any 1963 high school graduate in Kentucky is eligible. Graduates from out of state are eligible only if recommended by an alumni member of the Murray chapter of Kappa Pi.

Art Gallery A Reality Now!

Paul Hadley, director of the Division of Arts and Crafts, Kentucky Department of Commerce, and Mrs. W. H. Beaman, head of the Paducah Beautification Board, which leased the gallery area to the Guild. Paducahans from all walks of life helped make the gallery a reality.

In addition to the scholarship grant, several honorable mention stipends of $25 will be awarded. All grants will be awarded when the winners register next fall.

Students interested in the grants may obtain entry forms by writing to Miss Clara Eagle, Sponsor, Kappa Pi Fraternity, Murray State College. Application forms must be returned to the fraternity by May 4. Winners will be notified in June.

The Kappa Pi scholarship grants are given each year and are financed by the annual art auction sponsored by the art department.

Remember not too long ago we gave you the definition of "a girl." Well, a lot of folks who have boys in the family think a right smart about them too, and asked for the definition of "a boy." Courier-Journal columnist Allan Trout comes up with said definition and here it is:

"BOYS come in assorted sizes, weights and colors. They are found everywhere, on top of, underneath, inside of, climbing on, swinging from, running around, or jumping to. Mothers love them, little girls hate them, older sisters and brothers tolerate them, adults ignore them, and Heaven protects them.

"A boy is Truth with dirt on its face, Wisdom with bubble gum in its hair, and Hope of the future with a frog in its pocket. A boy has the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the energy of a pocket-size atom bomb, the curiosity of a cat, the lungs of a dictator, the imagination of Paul Bunyon, the shyness of a violet, the audacity of a steel trap, the enthusiasm of a firecracker, and when he makes something he has five thumbs on each hand.

"He likes ice cream, knives, saws, Christmas, comic books, the boy across the street, woods, water (in its natural habitat) large animals, Dads, trains, Saturday mornings and fire engines. He is not much for company, schools, books without pictures, music lessons, neckties, girls, overcoats, adults, or bedtime.

"Nobody else is so early to rise or so late for supper. Nobody else can cram into one pocket a rusty knife, a half-eaten apple, three feet of string, an empty Bull Durham sack, two gum drops, six cents, a slingshot, a chunk of unknown substance, and a genuine supersonic code ring with a secret compartment.

"A boy is a magical creature. You can lock him out of your workshop, but you can't lock him out of your heart. You can get him out of your study, but you can't get him out of your mind. Might as well give up—he is your captor, your savior, your boss and your master, a freckled-faced, pint-sized bundle of noises. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can mend them with two magic words: "Hi, Dad!"

The State Line Homemakers Club held its March meeting in the home of Mrs. Billy Parrish. The president, Mrs. Willie Cavender, was in charge of the meeting. Taking part on the program were Mrs. Hoyle Walker, Mrs. Edwin Cannon, Mrs. Neal Hedge, Mrs. A. F. Phillips and Mrs. Cavender. Sunshine gifts were received by Mrs. Jack Williams and Mrs. Edwin Cannon, and the door prize was won by Mrs. A. F. Phillips.

A donation was made to the Buford Ellington 4-H Club training center at Milan, Tennessee. Project leaders gave interesting reports, and a one-dish meal was prepared and served by Mrs. Lorenzo Palmer.

After the meeting, bingo was enjoyed. Winners were Mrs. Harry Watts and Mrs. Lorenzo Palmer. The hostess served delicious refreshments. The March 27 meeting will be with Mrs. Harold Mozzall at 1:00 p. m.

Popular bride-elect Annie Lee Green is being feted by her many friends these days. Annie Lee, who will be married to Charles Stephens was the inspiration for a lovely dinner party last Saturday night at the Park Terrace.

Hostesses for the affair were: Misses Phyllis Pigue, Glenda Clark, Dana Davis, Sheri Elliott, Martha DeMyer and Pam Homra.

Arrangements of spring flowers were used at the central appointments on the long table at which the guests were seated.

The honoree chose from her trousseau a model of pale blue, featuring a belle skirt. She wore a corsage of white carnations, a gift from the hostesses. She was also presented a gift of crystal in her chosen pattern.

Invited guests included — the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Bessie Green, the mother of the bridegroom elect, Mrs. Murrell Stephens. (Continued on page seven)

TO THE CITIZENS AND VOTERS

OF THE FIRST DISTRICT OF KENTUCKY
COMPOSED OF THE COUNTIES OF
BALLARD, CARLISLE, HICKMAN & FULTON

I herewith announce my candidacy for the office of State Representative of the First District of Kentucky, subject to the action of voters at the Democratic Primary Election on May 28th, 1963.

I am 57 years of age, a life long resident of Fulton County, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maddox. I graduated from Sylvan Shade High School and attended Murray State College; afterwards worked with the U. S. Corps of Engineers and now am engaged in farming. I am past President of the Fulton County Farm Bureau, member of Masonic Lodge, a Direct of the Farmers Bank, and a member and deacon of the Mt. Hermon First Christian Church.

Henry Maddox

I am, and have always been, a strong supporter of better roads, better schools and better health conditions for our counties, state and country.

In the weeks between now and May 28th, the date of the Primary Election, I hope to meet as many of you as time permits, but I realize that I cannot see everyone, and I hope that each of you will take this as my personal request for your vote and influence. I assure you that it will be deeply appreciated.

Sincerely,

HENRY MADDUX

The Beethoven Club held its regular meeting at the Woman's Club on Monday, March 18. The program leader was Donna Wall and members taking part on the program were Sharon Moore, Mary Jo Westpheling, Susan Bard, Terry Smith and Ginny Moss. Jane and Ginger Edwards delighted the group with several selections on the accordion. Hostesses for the meeting were Mary Ann Crider, Donna Wall, Ginny Moss and Marianna Weeks.

Rotary Club Sees Films On Navy Submarine

The Fulton Rotary Club was host Tuesday to Capt. Joe Beadles of the U. S. Navy submarine service, who showed two interesting films dealing with historic recent missions by atomic-powered submarines.

The first film was the official Navy documentary of the submarine "Nautilus" historic voyage under the polar ice cap to the north pole; the second was the equally-as-historic voyage of the "Triton" around the world submerged.

Capt. Beadles, a native Fultonian currently on leave visiting relatives here, has been transferred from duty in the Pacific to the NROTC program. He is currently Professor of Naval Science at Ohio State University at Columbus.

NOTEBOOK—

 tion Center on Lake Street and a lot of folks channel their inquiries on tourist travel to the News office.

Now you'd think that a person with all those varied tasks would have an attic full of useful and useless information with no room to remember another living, breathing thing. Not so Annabelle Edwards! When I walk into the News office in the morning she sits down and goes over all kinds of decisions she has made on my behalf. When I am out of pocket for a local or long distance call and the person calling wants some information, Annabelle can tell them right off hand the contents of a letter we have mailed in connection with the subject. We receive and answer an awful lot of letters, don't you ever believe we don't.

This can include anything connected with my work as Fulton County Chairman for Infantile Paralysis; State Publicity Chairman for the Democratic Women's Clubs of Kentucky; Regional Chairman for the Kentucky Tourist and Travel Council; first vice president of the drama group producing "Stars In My Crown;" an officer of the Ken-Tenn Broadcasting Corp. (WFUL); sometimes editor and co-publisher of the Fulton County News; a member of the State Women's Advisory Group for Breathitt for Governor; a member of the Governor's Safety Council; a member of the Fulton Airport Board . . . there are some others, but I don't have time to list them.

Meanwhile in the office next to mine there's a fellow whose extra-curricular activities even outdo Annabelle's and mine. Paul simply didn't have time to give them to me. It's pitiful, the things we get into.

So sometimes if you come into the office and ask us for a sheet of cardboard and you get a shot of Salk vaccine, just go to Paul for help. He'll give you a free ticket to the next Reserve Officer's drill at Paducah.

Rev. Allen Re-elected

At the meeting of the South Fulton PTA on March 14 the following officers were re-elected: Rev. Hulton Allen, pastor of the South Fulton Baptist Church, president; Mrs. E. K. Alexander, first vice-president; Mrs. Frank Barber, second vice-president; Mrs. Jim Huffine, treasurer; Mrs. Eugene Bard, Historian.

Mrs. David Phelps was elected secretary, succeeding Mrs. Cecil Wade.

By Mrs. Carey Fields

David Lassiter arrived Friday from Akron, Ohio, for a week end visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buton Lassiter. He was accompanied home by his wife Lynn and daughter Jacqueline, who have been visiting here the past few weeks.

Rev. James Holt filled his regular appointment at New Salem Baptist Church the past Sunday, meeting his congregation on time. Sunday School is held at 10 a. m. and worship service at 11 a. m. Everyone is invited by Pastor Holt and the church to attend these services.

The recent heavy rains have refilled all dry ponds over this section, greatly benefitting the cover crops and sowing of Korean and Koba. Much preparation has been made now that the tobacco is on the market. Plant beds have been burned and sowed. From all indications the 1963 crop acreage will soon be in the making.

Mrs. Uel Laird was stricken suddenly and rushed to Hillview Hospital, suffering from a heart condition. Every good wish is extended for a complete recovery soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mathis and daughters, Sammie Jane, Liz and Becky, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Mathis.

G. T. Cunningham has been getting all his shade trees topped and trimmed at his home in Dukedom, which will add much to the appearance.

Reports from the bedside of Hobert Westbrook, in Paris hospital, are that he is slightly improved at this writing. He has been critically ill the past few weeks.

Miss Janice Donaho, student at West Tennessee Business College in Jackson, spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Donaho.

Mrs. Ed Fields celebrated her 83rd birthday Monday, March 18, in Paducah at the home of her children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mitchell. She received many birthday cards.

A GRADUAL PROCESS

Little Betty like most other children never wanted to go to bed. One evening she was naughty, and as a punishment her mother placed her on a chair in one corner of the room.

"And don't you dare get down till you are good," said the vexed parent.

After a while mother said: "Betty, it is time for you to go to bed."

The child shook her head. "Oh, no, mummy!" she said. "I'm not good enough yet."

Publication Gives Tips on Honey Production

Lather Greets Fire Fighters At Drugstore

Miami Beach, Fla.—Firemen got all in a lather over a drugstore fire.

As they rushed into the store they were greeted by a series of small explosions. Then they found themselves boot deep in a sea of shaving foam and hair spray.

The store's stock of aerosol bombs had exploded in the heat.

DETROIT NEWS

By Roy Maurer

Well, at last the snow is just about gone and the sun is starting to shine. A robin was singing this morning, so spring will soon be here.

I am glad to know people are reading my column in the paper. I misspelled some words on purpose and was called and told about it. Thank you.

Myra Wooten was operated on this week at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital, is coming along very nicely. Her home address is 8340 Thirteen-Mile Road, Warren, Mich. A card from you, her friends, will cheer her up while she is recuperating.

Altha Roland is coming along fine. She is now able to walk, after her back operation. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Ralph Kirby is still in St. Joseph's Hospital, Room 506. Paul Drake is still in Glen Eden Hospital. Both are doing fairly well. Uncle Bob Allcock is still at home with a bad cold. He is only 93 years old, just a boy, so a card from you would help a lot. His address is 6230 Frontenac Blvd., Detroit 11, Michigan.

James Garland, Charles Foster and Miss Rodgers are all at home, recuperating very nicely.

Eunice Cates left to see her daughter, Sarah Jean, in Arizona for four or five weeks.

Jo, don't feel bad about getting lost. The first time my wife took me to Kentucky we wanted 307 Highway and she said, "Turn here." The next time I knew, saw a sign reading, "Welcome to Tennessee."

The young people's hat party is Saturday night, the 23rd, at Christine Yates' home, 15809 Chestnut, Roseville, Mich., so if you did not get your hat, etc., now is a good time to get them and for a good cause.

Don't forget the Red Cross Drive for funds. A buck or two will make you a lot of friends you never knew.

Come to church Sunday to have your faith lifted—it will do you good.

Call me at 8393074.

California Says Its Population Tops New York

Sacramento, Cal. — Governor Edmond G. Brown, supported by determined statisticians, said Tuesday that California has passed New York and become the most populous state in the nation. This event had been expected by the end of the year, but Brown said the slide rules and computers show it occurred a week ago.

The Governor told a news conference that he expected some argument and debate from the New Yorkers, whose state has been the nation's most populous since the beginning of the 19th Century.

As prepared by the population studies section in the State Department of Finance the figures show California has a population of 17,336,423.

CHESTNUT GLADE

By Mrs. Harvey Vaughn

Raymond McNatt has been for the past several days arranging dates in this locality for the presentation of a program by Mr. Anton R. Lendi, the internationally known commentator. This is a color film pageant on "Switzerland Pattern for Peace." Due to Mr. Lendi having an opportunity to spend several days in this county, it is hoped that each person in this and surrounding counties will get to attend one of these most unusual and tremendously appealing programs.

Mrs. Mary Terrell, who has been so critically sick for the past few days, appears to be slightly improved.

Several members of the Vaughn family enjoyed a most pleasant weekend when they visited Mr. and Mrs. Van Brann in Memphis, honoring Eva's birthday. Those present for Sunday dinner were Mr. and Mrs. John Verhines, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gossom and David, from Benton, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moore and Michelle, Mrs. Opal Pounds, Hoyt Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Wright and Mike, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vaughn.

Word was received during last week end of the death of Louie Pickle in Evansville, Indiana. Many people remember him, as he was formerly in the grocery business in Fulton. Funeral was in Evansville on Monday.

Iva Lynn, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Grissom, is reported to be improving nicely after suffering a broken leg from a fall at her home last week.

Jim Burke is improving, after suffering a heart attack last week. He is a patient in the Fulton Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brundige, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brundige and daughter, and Mrs. Eula Rogers visited relatives in Nashville last Monday.

PIERCE STATION

By Mrs. Charles Lowe

Mrs. Mattie Rogers is a patient in Fulton Hospital. We wish an early recovery for her. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Alford, of Dyersburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Raymond and son, of Nashville, were called Saturday to attend her bedside. Mrs. Alford and Mrs. Raymond are daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Cape and daughter, of Granite City, Illinois, spent Sunday with Mrs. Maggie Cape.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Smithson, of East St. Louis, are spending a few days with Mrs. Smithson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Stem.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown and children attended the Music Festival in Paducah Saturday. Their daughter had a part in the festival.

Mr. and Mrs. Dicky Willie, of Fulton, spent Sunday in the Man-cil Roach home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Adams and Mrs. Anna Adams, of Fulton, were dinner guests of Mrs. C. E. Lowe.

Broiler Dinner Shown To Ladies At Club Meeting

The Central Homemakers Club enjoyed a "broiler" dinner last week in the home of Mrs. Forest McMurry. The actual preparation and cooking of the meal was shown to the group by Mrs. McMurry and Mrs. Bret Prather. The demonstration consisted of broiled chicken and peach slices, and thick ham cuts and pineapple rings.

In the afternoon an article on the history of Hickman was given by the Citizenship Chairman, Mrs. Bert Prather. Mrs. Alice Sowell, Landscape leader, gave a demonstration on how to plant your seeds for transplanting later. She used egg shells, filled with dirt, in the egg cartons. Also, she showed how aluminum pans, in which rolls of cake are bought, could be used for planting seeds.

One visitor was present, Mrs. J. E. Rogan.

HOUSE REAPPORTIONMENT—Top map shows Kentucky's new House of Representatives districts as drawn by the recent special session of the General Assembly. Bottom map shows districts as they stood before the reapportionment session. The legislators increased Jefferson County's House delegation from 11 to 17, Fayette County's from two to four, and gave one more member each to Campbell, Warren, Hardin, Boyd and Christian Counties. Less populous districts lost members.

Lexington, Ky., where he was graduated from Transylvania College after a three-year stint in the U. S. Army Signal Corps during World War II. He worked for two years as a reporter on the Lexington Herald-Leader before entering the Graduate School of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, where he earned the M. A. and M. F. A. degree in dramatic arts. After directing plays at Transylvania College and in a summer stock theater in Maine, he became Chairman of the Drama and Speech Department at Catawba College in Salisbury, N. C. He is now on leave from that position to do further graduate work toward the Ph.D., and is the Alexander M. Drummond Fellow in Speech and Drama at Cornell University.

Hobgood considers himself primarily a theater director and teacher, but has also gained recognition as an actor, writer, designer, administrator, and scholar. He has staged more than 50 full-scale productions, acted in more than a score, written plays and designed settings for as many more. He was Executive Secretary-Treasurer of the South Eastern Theater Conference and first editor of that organization's quarterly magazine, Southern Theater. He became Administrative Vice-President of the American Educational Theater Association after heading AETA's College Curriculum Project and served as editor of the unique reference work, "A Directory of American College Theater." His greatest interest is the development of new playwrights, and one of his busiest sidelines is as a playwright's consultant; he was largely responsible for devising the Playwrights Program of AETA, which has just begun operation this year.

His wife, Jane Bishop Hobgood, of Berea and Pine Mountain, Ky., is a well known folk artist in the Southeastern part of the state. She specializes in the "lonesome" songs of the Appalachians as a singer, is an experienced folk dance leader, and has choreographed a number of modern musical comedies. The Hobgoods have two children, Laurence (3) and Cathleen (3 Mos.), and now live in Ithaca, N. Y.

Mr. Hobgood has worked with the following outdoor dramas: Wilderness Road (Berea, Ky.)—actor, two seasons; The Lost Colony (Manteo, N. C.)—Director, one season; The Confederacy (Virginia Beach, Va.)—actor one season; Chucky Jack (Gatlinburg, Tenn.)—actor, one season; Golden Prairie (Decatur, Ill.)—director, one season; Bound for Kentucky (Louisville, Ky.)—director, one season; From Out of This Dream (Salisbury, N. Call Vaccine Now Available In Fulton County

The date for brucellosis calfhoov vaccination for Fulton County was announced this week by Dr. A. N. Kirkpatrick, State Area Veterinarian. The vaccination date for Fulton County was set for March through March 23, Dr. Kirkpatrick said.

Cattlemen desiring vaccination for calves four months through eight months of age should contact their local veterinarian, giving name, address, location of farm and number of calves to be vaccinated. They should also get in touch with Mr. James Grey, livestock inspector, of Paducah.

Dates have been set in each county in the state for a three week period every four months at which time the vaccination will be free. At other periods owners must pay for the vaccination.

Easter Seal Drive Is March 14 to April 14

The 1963 Easter Seal Campaign for the benefit of thousands of Kentucky children crippled by many causes, will be held March 14-April 14 by the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children.

Funds raised in the annual appeal help support a statewide program of services, ranging from hospitalization and out-patient therapy to summer camping at the state's only resident camp for the physically handicapped.

This year 400,000 letters containing Easter Seals will be mailed to residents in all 120 Kentucky counties. In addition to the mail appeal, volunteer workers throughout the state plan special campaign events.

634 students that could be playing high school football. They are: Ballard Memorial, Benton City, Calloway County, Carlisle County, Fulton County, Hickman County, Heath, Lone Oak, Lowes, North Marshall, Reidland, Sedalia, South Marshall, Symsonia and Wingo. The smallest of these, Benton City with 223 students, has already indicated that they plan to start immediately, regardless of whether other schools in the area start or not. Murray-High, Fulton City, and Sturgis have an enrollment as small or smaller than any of these Purchase schools. I challenge you to go to these schools and ask them if their football program is worth it.

There are numerous advantages of several Purchase schools starting football at the same time. These include projected scheduling, distance between schools, finance, common problems, uniformity of opponents, and playing for a championship in a new all sports league to mention just a few. Christian County High School started football recently and they will tell you that there are many problems in connection with starting, but they are convinced that there would have been fewer problems if several schools had started at the same time. Incidentally, their program is already paying its own way.

The coaching staff of Murray State will be available at any time to speak to civic clubs, board meetings, other organizations, or to individuals concerning this matter. A meeting of officials from all interested schools could be held this Spring on the campus of Murray State College (or anywhere) to discuss the following points.

1. The possibility of such a project.
2. The importance of hiring competent football coaches.
3. Values of playing football.
4. The cost of starting football.
5. Community interest.
6. Forming a new all sports conference in the Purchase.

7. The possibilities of using existing stadiums and facilities at Paducah, Fulton, Mayfield, and Murray on a temporary basis.

8. Other points and questions.

Sincerely yours,
BILL HOLT

Kentucky Initiative Draws Praise

TOURING a kitchen cabinet manufacturing firm at Sandy Hook in Eastern Kentucky, William L. Batt, Jr., (right), administrator of the Federal Area Redevelopment Program, said the Mico Manufacturing Co. plant is a good example of how local initiative is helping solve the country's economic problems. "It makes more sense to build these kitchen cabinets here than to ship the raw materials out," he declared. The plant is now being expanded through loans from the State's Industrial Development Finance Authority and from A. R. A. Also shown in the picture are (from left) George Lavallee, chief of the A. R. A.'s Appalachian Region; and J. W. Conley, Mico Manufacturing Co. president. Batt and other Federal and State officials inspected the plant as part of a tour of A. R. A. projects in Eastern Kentucky.

Hickman County Farmers "Hog" Awards Lists

Farmers from Hickman County took most of the top placings with their hogs at the Mayfield carcass contest last Friday, March 15th. These hogs were judged on foot at the Mayfield Show sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture and the University of Kentucky. They were taken to Reelfoot Packing Company and killed on Saturday and were judged on the rail Monday, March 18th. Swine producers and businessmen from this area attended the meeting at Reelfoot Packing Company Monday beginning at 11:00 a. m. to see the carcasses after they had been judged on the rail.

In the Purebred Pen of five (on foot judging) J. T. Workman and Son of Clinton took first place; R. H. Samples of Clinton second; and Grover Canty of Clinton fifth.

In the class for commercial single hogs, J. T. Workman and Sons of Clinton place second; N. E. & Thomas Harper of Clinton third; Edward Bugg of Clinton tenth and Elvis Bugg of Clinton eleventh and twelfth.

In the purebred singles, R. N. Samples Farms of Clinton won second, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh.

Robert C. Overby of Mayfield won third; J. T. Workman and Son placed twelfth and Grover Canty of Clinton thirteenth.

Other farmers from this area with hogs in the show were Larry Harper, Reginald Harper, J. Sam Bugg, Larry Bugg, Elvis Bugg, Graham and Mullins, Billy Barclay, Willis Hilliard, James Henley and Joe Wayne Bolin of Clinton. Also, Ralph and Roland Adams of Hickman, Route 4.

SERVICE NOTES

ROY LOGAN

Army 2d Lt. Roy L. Logan, 24, whose wife, Phyllis, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Logan, live on Route 1, Hickman, Ky., recently completed the eight-week officer orientation course at The Southeastern Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga. Lieutenant Logan is a 1956 graduate of Woodland Mills (Tenn.) High School and received his bachelor's degree in 1962 from Murray State College.

McCoy AFB, Fla.—Charles D. Burnham of Cuba, Ky., has been promoted to airman second class in the United States Air Force.

Airman Burnham is an aircraft mechanic in the 4047th Strategic Wing here.

The airman, a graduate of Cuba High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace C. Burnham, Rt. 3, Fulton, Ky.

J. Waggoner, interior communications electrician second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Waggoner of Route 2, Wingo, Ky., is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Independence, currently at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard, Portsmouth, Va.

The Independence is slated for a Caribbean cruise in early spring and will make her fourth Mediterranean cruise in August.

KEESLER, AFB, Miss.—James R. Elliott of Clinton, Ky., has been promoted to airman second class in the United States Air Force.

Airman Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Elliott of Rt. 1, Clinton, is assigned to the 3380th Maintenance and Supply Group here as a vehicle repairman.

A graduate of Central High School, the airman attended Murray (Ky.) State College. His wife, Mary, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Eskew of Rt. 1, Fulton, Ky.

Two men from Fulton County and one from South Fulton have enlisted in the United States Navy. Randall Max Jeffress, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Jeffress, Route 1, Crutchfield, Donald Ray Bunton, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bunton, Route 4, Fulton, and Randall D. Pope, son of Mrs. Lillian McKelvy, Route 2, South Fulton, qualified and were sent to recruit training at San Diego, Calif. They will be taught seamanship, gunnery, ship and aircraft recognition and general military procedures.

On completion of recruit training they will spend 14 days leave with their families before reporting to new duty stations. Jeffress and Bunton are graduates of Fulton County High and Pope is a graduate of South Fulton High, all of class of 62.

For Ex-Servicemen

Q—Can a veteran pay off his GI loan before it becomes due and not be penalized?

A—Yes. A GI loan may be partially or fully paid at ANY TIME WITHOUT PENALTY. Part payments may not be less than one monthly installment or $100, whichever is less.

Q—Is Veterans Administration medical care available to peace-time veterans?

A—Yes, but they must have service-connected disabilities. A new law enacted by the 87th Congress extends the privilege to receive VA hospital and medical care to peacetime veterans having noncompensable, service-connected disabilities.

Q—I would like to know whether the veterans bonus after World War II was paid by the states or the Federal government.

A—Several states, not all, have paid bonuses to World War II veterans. There has been no Federal bonus paid to these veterans but a series of benefits ranging from educational rights, home mortgage guaranties to monthly compensation and pension payments have been made to eligible World War II veterans by the Federal government.

For additional information contact the Veterans Administration Regional Office 1405 West Broadway, Louisville 1, Ky.

Q—May a veteran who has no service-connected illness enter a VA hospital and pay for his care?

A—No. The government extends hospitalization benefits free of charge to those veterans with service-connected disabilities and to those veterans with nonservice-connected disabilities who cannot afford to pay for their hospitalization. All other veterans are expected to use non-VA hospitals.

For additional information contact the Veterans Administration Regional Office 1405 West Broadway, Louisville 1, Ky.

Veterans and dependents of deceased veterans receiving pension checks are reminded that the annual income questionnaire cards should be completed and returned to the Louisville Regional Office promptly. To date 16,000 of the 39,000 cards have not been returned. The questionnaire cards were received with the November 30, 1962 checks.

Olney B. Owen, Manager, Veterans Administration Regional Office, Louisville, Kentucky, said that about 23,000 veterans and about 16,000 dependents of deceased veterans in Kentucky received the questionnaire cards. Approximately 14,000 cards have been received from veterans and about 9,000 cards have been received from dependents of deceased veterans.

VA must have the completed questionnaire card to determine entitlement to pension on the basis of the beneficiary's income for the year 1962 and the anticipated income for the year 1963. Owen added that under Federal law pension payments will be suspended if the completed questionnaire is not returned.

Q—Is there an extent-of-time limit or an amount limit on a GI loan?

A—There is no limit on the amount of the loan in the case of a guaranteed loan. The limitation is on the amount of guaranty that can be issued upon the loan, which is 60 per cent or a maximum of $7,500. VA-insured loans, instead of guaranteed loans, may not exceed $26,666. The time limit is 30 years.

Q—Is there an age limit after which a war orphan may no longer be eligible for Educational Assistance by the VA?

A—Generally the age is between 18 and 23, but in no case may the schooling assistance be continued beyond the 31st birthday of the beneficiary. Certain war orphans younger than 18 may receive this assistance—for example, those who are handicapped.

Q—Does the Veterans Administration the VA has recognized 128 employees' organizations at 117 field stations as well as in Washington, D. C.

For additional information contact the Veterans Administration Regional Office 1405 West Broadway, Louisville 1, Ky.

Q—How many U. S. veterans are still living, and how does this total compare with the all-time high?

A—On January 1, 1963, there were 22,225,000 U. S. veterans of all wars still living. This compares with the all-time high of 22,735,000, which was reached in March, 1958.

Q—As the widow of a World War II veteran with two children, I understand WW II widows and orphans are now eligible to receive pensions on the same basis as World War I dependents. What are the conditions for eligibility and how much would the pension amount to?

A—The WW II deceased veteran no longer is required to have had a service-connected disability at the time of his death. Your income must be less than $3,000 a year. Your pension would range from $25 to $60 a month, adding $15 a month for each child.

Q—As a veteran with a GI home loan, I understand I may make additional payments to retire the loan faster than my contract stipulates. What is the minimum extra payment I may make?

A—You may pay an additional $100 with your monthly payment or an additional monthly payment, whichever is the smaller payment.

For additional information contact the Veterans Administration Regional Office 1405 West Broadway, Louisville 1, Ky.

Churches' Ties Held Improved

Oslo, Norway — In an interview published in the Oslo Christian daily, Vart Land, Dr. Stewart W. Herman of New York, head of the Lutheran World Federation's committee on Latin America, says Protestant-Roman Catholic relations have improved greatly in Latin America.

"We can talk with each other, and it is no longer possible to speak about persecution of Protestants in any of the countries of Latin America," he is quoted.

IN KENTUCKY

BEER IS A NATURAL

As natural as the wholesome grains and tangy hops from which it is brewed, beer is Kentucky's traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling, delicious.

And naturally, the Brewing Industry is proud of the good living it provides for so many folks in Kentucky. Not only for employees of the Brewing Industry itself, but also for the farmers and other suppliers of beer's natural ingredients. In Kentucky, beer belongs—enjoy it.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR 1963

The beginning of anything new is always filled with doubts and suspicions by many. This is natural, as time will recall when new inventions, discoveries, and ideas have been announced, a cloud of doubt and wondering if all claims offered would be fact or fallacy.

No doubt this same idea rings in the minds of many farmers as we close the old year and enter a new one. The new year always brings new problems, many of which are easily solved and others such as weather we have no control over. As we enter the new year, however, there are many bright spots on the horizon for the farmer and his family who are willing to accept change, adapt themselves to newer methods and the latest research. True there are many problems, but with them come unlimited opportunities. The costs of production and operation must be watched closely. Strict and every day adherence to good management practices must be applied. Farmers today are more than field hands, they are business men and among the nations largest too. Industry that follows this example has been very successful, farming can be too.

A bit of advice is offered here to farmers and farm families for 1963. Firm decisions should be made about plans for the farm in early January. Sit down with pencil and paper and jot down your the people of Kentucky whether he favors a repeal or reduction of the minimum wages now in effect for local business in Kentucky." Breathitt said that the minimum wages for women and minors were as low as 27 1/2 cents an hour while Chandler was governor.

During a press conference at his headquarters, Breathitt stated, "The people of Kentucky have a right to expect the truth from their candidates. They have a right to expect truth from their officials, particularly their governor."

In speaking of his own pledge of a campaign of truth, Breathitt stated, "I shall always keep the people of Kentucky informed about problems facing our state and those programs which I believe will solve these problems. My office door will always be open to the citizens of Kentucky." He listed three subjects on which he said Chandler has dodged the truth in recent appearances.

Breathitt charged that Chandler leased a large number of state park services and concessions to his political friends while he was governor—"and at a great loss to the state," Chandler denied this last week, Breathitt said.

Referring to Chandler's recent appearance at Walton-Verona High School in Boone County, Breathitt said that his opponent had a se-ret. He quoted Chandler as answering a question as to how he proposed to make up needed revenue for the state if he alters the sales tax by saying "Honey, I'm glad you asked me that question. I'm not going to tell you. But I do have a plan..." He called upon Chandler to reveal his tax secret and "stop trying to hoax the people... stop dodging the truth."

Breathitt also charged that Chandler knew about the two percent assessments against state employees while he was governor but now says he was not aware of them. "The arrangement was known to employees as 'The Pay If You Stay Club,'" Breathitt declared, "and money was extracted from them on a monthly basis."

Breathitt renewed his challenge to Chandler to debate the campaign issues with him on television.

TO THE VOTERS

OF FULTON, CARLISLE, HICKMAN, GRAVES AND BALLARD COUNTIES

My formal announcement as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney, subject to the Democratic primary May 28, 1963, appeared before you some time ago. Since then I have been in every county and I have been well received by all of you. For this I am grateful. It is my hope that I can personally see every voter, but I know that this is an impossibility. The District is just too large for that.

So that you the voters may know more about me as a candidate for this important office, I submit the following: I was born forty-four years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Murphey Reed of the Clear Springs Community in Graves County. I am the grandson of the late Dr. A. A. Hurt of that community. I graduated from Clear Springs High School and then entered Murray State College. I entered the armed services in 1941 as a private in the infantry. Shortly thereafter, I transferred to the old Army corp as a Cadet and later graduated as a pilot and was commissioned an officer. I was an instructor in flying and I flew both fighter and bomber planes. My military service was for a period of almost five years.

During the war I married Vivian Waldrop of Mayfield, Kentucky. After the war I started working in the office of the County Court Clerk of Graves County part time and attended Murray State College until I received a bachelor of science degree. While attending Murray State College I ran for State Representative and was elected. I was re-elected two years later. While I was in the Legislature in Frankfort I enrolled as a law student in the College of Law, University of Kentucky.

In the College of Law I was elected to the staff of the Kentucky Law Journal and President of the student body of the College of Law. I received a bachelor of law degree from the College of Law, University of Kentucky, and immediately came back to Graves County and entered the private practice of law with the late Flavious B. Martin and Sam Boyd Neely in the law firm of Martin, Neely & Reed. I now practice with Sam Boyd Neely and Carroll Hubbard, Jr. I am a member of the American, Kentucky, First District and Mayfield-Graves County Bar Associations. I am the president of the Mayfield-Graves County Bar Association and one of the eight members of the criminal code committee of the Kentucky Bar Association.

Mrs. Reed and I are the parents of three sons: One in college, one in high school and one not yet in school.

"TIP" REED

Candidate for Commonwealth Attorney

I am a Methodist and the charge lay leader of the First Methodist Church, Mayfield, a trustee of the church and have taught the adult men's Bible class for several years.

The office that I seek demands of the one who occupies it absolute integrity, fairness and dedication to the principle of equal justice under the law. It also stands as a bulwark against crime. It is not an office to be lightly sought, nor is it your privilege as voters to lightly give this office to anyone who might seek it. I invite all of you to investigate my record as a lawyer and as a citizen. Feeling that I merit your consideration and vote, I submit myself to you, the voters, as a candidate for the office of Commonwealth's attorney.

L. M. Tipton Reed
